The plan is fair and simple. Write to the Courier-Journal Company, Louisville, Ky., for a copy of the Weekly Courier-Journal, giving full details. It will be sent free.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at Mrs. L. C. Hurt's this (Wednesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A basket ball club has been organized by the young ladies of the Lindsay-Wilson. Miss Ethel Abzill will coach.

There will be a Sunday school gathering at Goodin's schoolhouse next Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Sam Stapp will conduct the song service.

Mrs. Ella Hartwell, of Denver, Col., and Mr. Jas. Gray and wife, Onsey, Ill., who have been visiting in Russell county, were in this place the first of the week, en route for their respective homes. While in Columbia they were the guests of the family of Mr. W. F. Jeffries.

Mr. O. A. Taylor, one of Adair county's best young men, is now a salesman in Mr. W. L. Walker's store. Mr. Taylor will take pleasure in waiting upon the trade and he invites his friends to call and see him in his new place of business.

Millinery Display.

I have just returned from the market with a beautiful line of Fall and Winter millinery, which will be on display Friday. All the ladies of Adair and adjoining counties are invited to call.

MISS BURDIE POWELL.

The two institutions of learning located at this place are moving to the front. Additional pupils arrive daily, and by the last of the year both colleges will have many more students than at the same time last year. The college buildings and dormitories are large, ample room for all who may come. Start your sons and daughters now.

Mr. Jas. Grover Blair, a young man who resided in Casey, Creed and Polytion neighborhoods, died Monday of last week, a victim of typhoid fever. He was about twenty years old, exemplary in habits, and was universally popular. His parents and brothers and sisters have the sympathy of all the people in that section of the county.

The dwelling house and all its contents of Spencer Johnston (colored) of Mt. Carmel neighborhood, was destroyed by fire Monday. Nothing was saved and the children made a narrow escape. A defective flue was the cause. Johnston was well fixed and his loss is regretted by all the people of that section.

The sermon delivered by Presiding Elder Shelley at the Methodist church last Sunday night, was one of the strongest heard here for many months. His text was "The Immortality of the Soul," and he showed conclusively that there was a brighter world beyond for all God's children. As stated elsewhere Elder Shelley is very much liked here and our people are sorry that his four years have expired, necessitating his removal to another point.

Mr. C. C. Bault, a respected citizen of the Cane Valley section, died last Friday morning with diseases incident to old age. He would have been seventy-four years old had he lived until next March. His friendly disposition and strict moral and religious character endeared him to the people and he will be greatly missed. A large number of relatives and friends attended the last sad rites.

The people of Columbia District, with one accord, regret exceedingly that Rev. S. G. Shelley's time, as Presiding Elder, is about to close. He has presided over the district four years and has done a great work. He is an able, consecrated minister and has been devoted to his church and people. There are but few better presiding elders in the Conference, and we are sure there is not one who is more zealous in the cause of Christianity. During the four years he and his estimable wife have resided in Columbia and their departure will not only be regretted by the Methodist people, but by the whole community. Elder Shelley's ability demands a good location and we feel sure that the Bishop will so decide. Conference meets at Leitchfield this week.

Mrs. L. T. Powell and Mr. L. V. Hall advertise their entire property for sale in this issue. It is their intention to locate in Oregon when they dispose of their holdings in Columbia. The property for sale is desirable in every respect and those desiring to locate in the most progressive town in Southern Kentucky, should act at once.

J. W. Cape, of Russell county, a notorious liquor peddler, was in Columbia last Wednesday, plying his vocation. The authorities got on to his game and he was arrested, tried and fined $180. He was the boldest liquor trafficker that ever struck the town. He is now in the county jail and when he serves out his fine the Government will take charge of him. There are other indictments against him in the Adair Circuit Court.

Eld. A. L. Oler, pastor of the Christian church, this place, closed a very successful meeting at Mt. Pleasant last Saturday night. The meeting was in progress two weeks and during the whole of that time large congregations attended the night services, manifesting interest from the start. There were twenty-eight additions to the Church, eighteen by baptism, four reclaimed and six took membership.

S. D. Crenshaw exhibited a hen egg at this office not larger than an ordinary bird egg, but of natural shape and hard shell. Mr. Crenshaw states that it is about an average egg for this hen, a well developed Plymouth rock. The smallness of her product is more than offset by quantity, as she lays 365 days in the year. Mr. Crenshaw has never attempted hatching any of the eggs, believing that the chicks would be too long in reaching the frying stage.

The Marion Falcon has the following concerning the proposed railroad:

Our people who have watched the progress made by the promoters of our new railroad have reasons to believe now that their hopes will not be in vain. Mr. Abzill and his corps of engineers were here the first of the week and are now surveying the route over a Muldraugh's Hill with the hope that it will not be necessary to tunnel. The survey of the entire route has been completed and rights of way nearly all secured. The grades as required by the prospectus were easily secured, and the average grade much less than was anticipated. Now comes the time for the "long pull, the strong pull and the pull all together," by the people along this route who should not cease until we can hear the rattle and the din of the cars on the new rails.

We are glad to know that Mr. Turk is surrounded with plenty of this world's good and fertile country. We are sure it is impossible to keep a good man down, especially when he goes from Adair county. He requested Mr. Walker to send him the best paper in this section and of course that means The Adair County News.

COCA-COLA IS HARMLESS.

Results of an Investigation Made by Authorities a Harmless Beverage.

REMARKABLE TEMPERANCE DRINK.

The past few years have seen a remarkable growth in temperance convictions in all parts of the United States. There has been also a remarkable diminution in the consumption of spirituous liquors. While these two facts are related to each other, in other words, the growth of temperance accounts in part for the diminution of the liquor traffic, there has been a powerful auxiliary to temperance in the very refreshing beverages that have experienced such wide popularity in recent years. None of them has become so famous as Coca-Cola, which was manufactured originally in Atlanta, Ga., but is now made by the same parent company, not only in Atlanta, but in Philadelphia, Chicago, Dallas and Los Angeles, which supply the increased demand for this popular beverage from the territory to which each city is the distributing center. Largely on account of the increasing use of Coca-Cola, a perfectly harmless beverage, the soda fountain has supplanted the saloon in many places. But let us see what these analyses of authorized and disinterested experts reveal as to the merits and alleged demerits of Coca-Cola. Here they are:

First is a letter, addressed to the editor of the "Ram's Horn," by the chief of the U. S. Government Bureau of Chemistry, in the Department of Agriculture, which is in response to an inquiry as to whether Coca-Cola contains cocaine or any other harmful ingredients. Mr. Wiley, the chief, replied that while he had never examined Coca-Cola, it had been the subject of analysis by different Food Commissioners, and according to their reports, they were, none of them, able to demonstrate the presence of cocaine. This letter is dated June 26th, 1905, and is on file in the office of the "Ram's Horn," Chicago.

The Food Commission to which Chief Wiley refers are those appointed by the several States to guard the people against injurious foods and drinks. Every report that has been made by these commissions, so far as we can learn, has been highly favorable to Coca-Cola. A characteristic one is that from the State of Georgia, which is given here, because Georgia is the original home of this preparation.

John M. McCandless, State Chemist.
State of Georgia,
Department of Agriculture
Division of Chemistry.
Atlanta, Ga., February 6, 1905.
The Coca-Cola Company,
Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen: Referring to your recent inquiry as to a copy of any analysis I have made of Coca-Cola, I beg to furnish you the following copy of a letter written to Prof. Kilgore, State Chemist of North Carolina, who inquired particularly concerning any analysis of Coca-Cola, which I might have been made. "In the matter of Coca-Cola, there was a bill introduced in the last Legislature imposing a tax upon all the soda-water syrups, and I believe it was amended to put a still higher tax upon Coca-Cola than upon any other syrup, because of its supposed injurious character. I analyzed a sample of Coca-Cola I bought in the open market, and tested carefully for cocaine, and also for morphine, neither of which were present. I found 1.37 grains of caffeine per fluid ounce of the Coca-Cola syrup, and calculated that this amount was considerably less than would be found in a cup of coffee, according to the analysis given in Allen's Commercial Organic Analysis. I also found that Coca-Cola contained .2472 grams of phosphoric acid per gallon, equivalent to .379 grains of 90 per cent. phosphoric acid. I did not undertake to estimate or determine any of the various flavoring ingredients which are used in Coca-Cola. My final judgment about the matter was that there was nothing more injurious in Coca-Cola than would be found in tea or coffee. I have seen no other analyses which have been made of this syrup. The specific gravity of the sample which I examined was about 1.28. Practically all of the solid matter shone by this specific gravity was due to sugar."

Yours very truly,
Jno. M. McCandless, State Chemist.

Quite as conclusive as the report of State Commissions is that of Dr. Louis Shaefer, President of the Shaefer Alkaloid Works, Maywood, N. J., large manufacturers of Cocaine, Caffeine, Strychnine and other alkaloids. On March 7th, 1904, I went to the Drug Store of J. Milhaus' Son, 183 Broadway New York, N. Y., and ordered a pint of original Coca-Cola Syrup. I obtained a bottle, which the druggist asserted was taken from the original cask.

I made during the 8th, 9th and 10th of March, a thorough analysis of the obtained syrup, using the best knowledge of my long experience in the chemistry of Alkaloids, to isolate the Alkaloids of the sample. I found that the sample contained a small percentage of Caffeine, which is the Alkaloid of Coca Nuts, and which also exists in large quantities in tea leaves and coffee beans. Outside of Caffeine, I could not isolate any other Alkaloids. I especially directed my efforts to the detection of Cocaine. For this purpose I made repeated fractional examinations of the Total Alkaloid obtained from the syrup. I narrowed the fractions which should contain all the Cocaine of the sample, if there were any present, repeatedly down, to find in each case, that not a trace of Cocaine, which has been pronounced characteristic, could be detected.

The above experiments prove to me conclusively that the Coca-Cola Syrup, as sold by the Coca-Cola Company, does not contain a trace of Cocaine.

(Signed) Dr. L. Shaefer.
Acknowledged before me, this eleventh day of March, 1904.
Albert Frankel, Notary Public No., 68, Kings Co., N. Y.

J. C. Mims, Analytical and Industrial Chemist, Board of Health New Orleans, also purchased in the open market a quantity of Coca-Cola Syrup and submitted same to analysis. After careful examination he failed to show the presence of Cocaine or other injurious Alkaloids. His report is dated June 7th, 1905.

In view of the many false and perhaps malicious reports that were current concerning the presence of Cocaine in Coca-Cola, Dr. B. H. Warren, the Dairy and Food Commissioner of the State, caused an analysis to be made of the syrup by chemists appointed by authority of law, to perform such duties for the dairy and food commissions. On May 8th, 1903, Dr. C. B. Cochran, one of the said chemists, obtained a sample of Coca-Cola from Ross Co., of Lebanon, Pa., and reported as a result of careful analysis: "No cocaine detected."

This analysis was made wholly in the interest of the people of Pennsylvania, with the sole view of protecting the people of that State from the sale and use of and soda fountain drink which might contain Cocaine. It is a complete and perfect answer to the charge that Coca-Cola contains Cocaine and should forever silence those who have made such a charge.

Finally, to answer every question which might be inspired by ignorance, prejudice, or malice, we might ask:

Is Coca-Cola intoxicating? It positively is not.

Does Coca-Cola contain alcohol? It certainly does not.

Does Coca-Cola contain cocaine? It certainly does not.

In view of the above facts, supported incontestably by an expert analysis and testimony, the makers of Coca-Cola cordially recommend it to the public who wish a delightful, invigorating, refreshing beverage, and who wish to see that beverage supplant the harmful, intoxicating, debilitating liquors that contribute so much to the world's misery.

It is in view of the above that such reputable papers as the "Saturday Evening Post," "Christian Herald," and "The Ram's Horn," and many others which are notably strict in respect to their advertising columns, have given large publicity to Coca-Cola, believing that in so doing they are not only benefiting themselves in a business way, but are benefiting the public decidedly by helping to introduce a beverage in place of wine, beer and whiskey, which is scarcely less stimulating, but is far more beneficial. From Ram's Horn by permission.

It is characteristic of mankind, when misfortune of any sort overtakes one, to want to fasten the blame of it on some one other than one's self. There are people, in fact, who do not seem to realize that this attitude is wholly childish, undignified and often equivalent to a confession of utter incapacity on their own part. It is so, nevertheless, asserts the Epitomis. Indeed, not to be able to direct one's own business successfully, or to steer clear of the difficulties besetting every man's path, indicates that a person lacks intelligence, firmness and tact. Rather than bemoaning his fate, however, and above all ascribing the cause of their hard luck to folks in nowise practically to blame for it, they should bestir themselves to effect the necessary improvement in their own character and disposition.

A census bulletin gives the information that the number of teachers in the United States has doubled in the last thirty years, and is now greater than the whole number of clergymen, lawyers and physicians. There is one teacher to every twenty-one pupils. The profession of teaching, however, is not a steady one. Many young men and women resort to it as a temporary employment—as something that will do till they can get something better. Then there are many specialists in the schools who are classed as teachers in the census returns, but who in truth do not properly belong to the teaching profession.

Incredible Brutality.
It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Leimberger of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful grab over his eye so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and blisters too. Only 25c at T. E. Able Young Men Now In Demand.

A notable article by Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, entitled, "America's Prizes For Honest Men," appears in the magazine Men and Women, for September. He says that there never was a time in the history of the country when the demand for young men of ability and energy was so great as it is at present, but he adds that while the country is full of opportunities the young man who waits for an opportunity to carry him to the top of the ladder will suffer grievous disappointments.

The young man, says Governor Johnson, who spends his time in having fun, or thinking about it, does not deserve success, and generally gets what he deserves. In regard to the trusts and to the honesty in public life, the Governor makes notable utterances. He thinks there is great opportunity for the young man in the trust business. Here is what he says:

"The vast combinations of capital commonly called trusts, which have monopolized to themselves so many industries, have, of course, had their influence on the opportunities for young men in those particular lines of business. These combinations are found mostly in manufacturing and transportation, and have revolutionized the business methods in their field of activity. Before these combinations sprang into power, a great number of independent individuals and corporations were engaged in these various lines, and the ambitious young man worked with the possibility in mind that he might in time become an independent manufacturer himself. In branches of industry which are now controlled by combines this incentive has been removed, but there are still great opportunities for young men who enter these fields, even though the business be operated by trusts.

"Men of brains, energy and proper training are in great demand in these powerful combinations of capital, and the man who shows himself to have mastered the details of the business in which he is engaged will find that there is a place for him in which his ability is needed and will be recognized.

"The formation of these great combinations, and the attendant evils which have resulted to the country from their organization and their methods have made the demand for young men of the right kind greater than ever before.

"What this country now needs is young men of ability, who are also thoroughly honest. We need men who carry their honesty with them in the conduct of their business; men who believe that honesty and integrity are the first requisites to success and who will insist upon honesty in the men selected to affairs of the nation, state and community.

"Whichever way we turn we read of graft and crookedness in all branches of business and political life. Charges of dishonesty and corruption in various departments of the national government, in the banks and practically every branch of organized endeavor, we read of it in newspapers and magazines and hear it discussed from the lecture platform. The country seems to be steeped in a veritable saturnalia of crime and corruption.

"The present agitation and the resulting investigations will undoubtedly result in clarifying the moral atmosphere. The conditions which now exist are mainly due to the craze of accumulation of vast fortunes in a short time, which always follows mad speculation.

The Governor concludes by advising honesty and energy, and adds that no matter how badly handicapped a young man may be, there are always opportunities. His closing sentence is: "Be honest, work hard and be always ready, and you will succeed."

Kentucky Crop Report.

The month of August was very seasonable. Some localities complain of too much rain, and some of not enough. But as a whole crops have not suffered materially, either by drought or excess of rain.

The corn crop is a good one. The only complaints are, that on low, wet lands it suffered for want of proper cultivation and some of it drowning out. But taking the State over, the crop is a full average.

The yield of wheat per acre is a little below the average. Oats and rye are above the average.

The tobacco crop is also a good one. There was some damage done by the worms, and in some localities it suffered for cultivation. There is some complaint of house burn of the early cutting. There seems to be still a good deal of 1904 crop in the hands of the farmers. 14 per cent. of the burley and 25 per cent. of the dark remains unsold September 1st. Prices of tobacco of 1904 crop, compared with prices of the previous year, were for burley 14 per cent. less, while that of dark was 16 per cent. more.

The hay crop is a full average in quantity, but a large per cent. of it is more or less damaged by the excessive moisture at the time of harvesting.

Live stock of all kinds is reported in good condition. No disease of any kind is reported from any county in the State. About the usual number of young colts and mules are reported. Breeding cattle and sheep are about an average, while sows are a little below. On the whole, the farmers seem to be in good shape so far as an abundant harvest is concerned.

To Make Successful Sales.

The fundamental principle on which successful public sales are built is the possession of good stock, not only having a high grade of individual merit, but in addition such as answers the demands of the best breeders with reference to the blood lines involved, according to L. E. Ausman, in Twentieth Century Farmer. The breeder should make it a point to keep for sale that kind of an animal and that strain of breeding that the public is buying most freely and paying the highest prices for. One sale is a good advertisement for the next, so good animals must be the basis on which to begin.

After having stock of the right sort the next thing is that they should go into the sale ring in the best possible condition. While they should not, at sale time, carry such a quantity of flesh as would make them desirable for the meat market, they will sell best if fat. They should be fed in a gradual way which shall at sale time bring them to the culminating point of highest bloom. This preparation is one of great importance, involving careful judgment and unceasing oversight, as the bloom point lasts but a short time and too much fitting is harmful in appearance as too little. It is almost necessary to live with a sale consignee during the period of preparation, as they can never be too good. Careful grooming must never be overlooked. When the animal is driven into the ring let it be in the best possible form. Each animal should early in the day be marked with the catalogue number, so that buyers may be able to identify, examine and make their selection before the sale opens.

Horticultural Hints.

Every fruit tree should be labeled. They soon fall off but should be put on again.

Packages should be of full measure. To fall short is to provoke a customer.

There is no secret about a man's success who adopts the best methods and works at them.

The taste for good fruit may so cultivated that it will be had even at a larger price.

Mulberries make a good shade trees for the poultry yards, and the fowls devour the berries.

Pear blight is a disease of the leaf, and may be prevented by spraying with Bordeaux mixture.

First-class fruit in first-class shape will probably create an inquiry for more of the same kind.

The November strawberry bed is a favorite with some. If not set then a little later will do.

Hundreds of trees set every year die because of neglect of the owners. It is not always the fault of the nurserymen.

A large orchard poorly planted and poorly tended will not produce as good results as fewer trees well cultivated.

Do not try to raise cauliflower on poor soil. They need plenty of nitrogen and humus to retain moisture.

Young trees should not be trimmed too liberally as too much foliage clipped weakens the feeding power.

There is no objection to selling No. 2 fruit if it is so marked. But to sell No. 2 for No. 1 is where the trouble is.

Whenever root grafting is used in the winter the plants should not be set out in the spring unless the grafts have grown together.

But Just Suppose.

But just suppose that the South should send a freak or two to the Senate? Will they not be as innocuous as the Northern freaks? The country will stagger along with Vardeman crossing swords with LaFollette and neither will hurt the senate.—Washington Post. Certainly not—nor better it, for that matter, so strongly entrenched are the railroads and trusts in the senate that the addition of Vardeman and LaFollette—two honest but somewhat cranky individuals—will count but one on the side of the common people, Mississippi now having Democratic senators and the election of LaFollette being a gain to popular rights, Republican though he is, but not of the type the trusts and the railroads like to have in the senate.

Honest men are not at a discount in the senate, for the reason that honest men are not at a discount anywhere. They are simply not wanted in the senate, but are classed as freaks because of their old-fashioned honesty and Democracy.—Owensboro Messenger.

How to Live.

Life, after all, is never very happy if a person is constantly sick. "How to live" is largely a question of "how to be well." The answer to both is, keep your main health communications—stomach, liver and bowels—in good order with Dr. Caldwell's (taxative) Syrup Pepsin. It is reliable, safe and pleasant cure for headache, constipation, colic and all symptoms of the digestive trouble. Sold by J. N. Page of Columbia, & R. B. Friendship.

When the sun is bright and the sky is blue,

And calm is the wind and weather, Then plenty of friends will stick by you.

And walk down the ways together. For easy the path the flowers grow. And the grass in the wind nods to and fro.

So many a friend with you will go On the way o'er the sunlight beather.

But if clouds grow dark and the way grows steep

And the harsh wind blood is chilling, But few you will find at your side will keep.

With hearts that are warm and willing.

For hard is the path where the sharp thorns hide,

Where the rough rocks hinder on every side.

And you see the writhings of the loves that dies

When your life with woe was filling.

Fair weather friends by your side will run

When your path is the path of pleasure.

But cloudy the sky and obscured the sun

Their love lacks the needed measure.

For love like theirs is more selfishness That withers away in the storm and stress.

For 'tis rooted in pleasure and takes no less

Than a self-willed pleasure.

So here's to the friend who stands by you

The foul be the wind and weather.

Whose eyes look love and whose heart beats true.

As you tread dark ways together.

For he lends you strength through his strong right arm.

And you build new faith on his heart-lands

While you laugh at fate and its threats of harm.

On your way o'er the storm-swept beather.

Joseph T. O'Neal the fusion candidate for Mayor of Louisville, had as well throw up the sponge. Bill Owens is making speeches for him. Paul Barth will be the next Mayor of Louisville, and after his election Mr. O'Neal, who claims to be a Democrat, will identify himself with the Republican party, but his action will not stop the sun from rising nor the Democratic party from growing.

David E. Sherrick, defaulting Auditor of Indiana, is $121,292.45 short with the State. It is said that most of this money was lost at the gaming table.

Hon. W. J. Bryan, wife, son and daughter left San Francisco last Friday for a tour around the world. Mr. Bryan stated before taking his departure that the party would be absent not less than one year.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Root, Senator Lodge and Joseph H. Choate held a conference at Sagamore Hill a few days ago. It is said that the doings of the Equitable and New York Life Insurance Companies were the topic of discussion.

Hon. J. M. Richardson, Glasgow, Congressman from the Third district, who has been quite sick, is improving, but he is yet far from being a well man. His friends hope he will be himself again in a few weeks. He has been afflicted with typhoid fever.

Alexander T. Wilson, of Barbourville, is a brother to Miss Bessie Wilson, who was betrayed by an army officer, giving his name as Smith, in New York City. The girl committed suicide after being deserted, and young Wilson says he will hunt until he finds the man who was the cause of his sister's tragic end.

The following is taken from The Harrodsburg Herald:

In an interview in the Frankfort Journal Judge W. S. Pryor expresses strong reasons why he should return to the viva voce system of voting. The Judge served over 20 years on the appellate bench and says his investigation of election fraud contests proved conclusively that more frauds, by two to one, are committed under the secret ballot plan than under the viva voce plan. He says that it is possible under secret ballot for a few men to absolutely control elections by a few neatly executed frauds and that no way has been found to circumvent them, whereas, under the viva voce system each voter has his name recorded and can see that his name is properly entered. If a contest results under the viva voce system the record shows how each man voted, thus greatly lessening the opportunity for fraud. There could under this system be no wholesale perversion of the public as under the secret ballot, cast in secret and counted in secret. The advocates of the retention of the present system argue that corporations will be able to control elections by coercing their employees to vote as they dictate, but even that would not be deplorable as to have dishonest election officers set aside the expressed will of the voters as they can and do under the secret ballot. The question is to be voted on in the coming November election when we hope the nefarious system will be stricken from the constitution and laws for all time to come.

In the last National campaign Mr. Perkins, of the New York Life Company, contributed $48,792 to the Republican campaign fund. This fact was brought to light a few days ago and indicates that the Company felt more interest in the success of a political party than a fair deal and protection for its policy holders. Such investigations may lead to further revelations, not alone in this great company but in others. At least it has turned public gaze to the expensive and extravagant management of so called mutual institutions whose money is derived from its patrons, and will doubtless show other companies as deep in the mud as it is in the mire. The investigation is coming and will redound to the good of those who pay annual premiums and clear the records and show the spots on the honest and the dishonest management of many institutions. The three leading companies suspected of unfair dealings are, the Equitable, New York Life and New York Mutual.

Throughout the entire State, in every county and nearly every precinct, the voters have been reminded of the uncertainties of the returns under the secret way of voting, since the work has been done behind the curtains. Dissatisfaction, wrangles and bitterness have arisen over the appointment of election officers, from Judge to challengers. Disputes and contests have prevailed. Ballot boxes have sometimes come up missing, results changed and flagrant frauds backed victories. It seems that we are growing no better awfully fast, and if the present system must prevail, we may expect innumerable contentions yet in our future contests. Under the old system, the books told the story. Who would not desire peace to wrangles, honest results to fraudulent returns, and settlements to contests? The way is plain, return to the old way. Vote for a change in the Constitution this Fall.

Strange, but true, some Democratic papers can not see the harm of a partisan campaign within our own party, and are doing all that is necessary to develop bitterness and factional strife between the friends and supporters of the two distinguished gentlemen who seek the U. S. Senatorship. Both are men of ability and entitled to support, and neither are greater than the party or many other men who have met defeat. More talk about the good graces of the man of your choice and less abuse of the friends of the other candidate would doubtless reflect more credit and bring better results. The News is too far South for an effectual position in Kentucky Democracy to attack or retreat in this battle, but not too far to see the troubles that may prolong the next session of our Legislature and prove costly both to party and State. How nicely a primary would work in this contest.

We have never heartily favored a party primary, not because of its principle, but on account of its expense to those who seek position of honor and trust, many of whom are at great disadvantage from a financial standpoint. Up to this good hour we are still of the same opinion, when applied to State and local contests, but since there has been a great clamor for the election of U. S. Senators by the people, it appears that a party primary by the dominant party in each State would practically meet this demand—a demand made by the people and the Lower House of our national representatives, but rejected by the Senate. Virginia and Tennessee, one a mother, the other a sister of Kentucky, have both decided to submit this important decision to the voters in the Democratic party. In Virginia Senator Martin and Gov. Montague are measuring arms; in Tennessee Ex-Gov. Taylor, "Our Bob," is going against the game Senator Cormack. Why not the Democrats of Kentucky settle the matter by a primary between Senator Blackburn and Judge Paynter, and prevent a bitter and probably expensive settlement of this matter in the next session of our legislature. As it stands today there is not a county in the Eleventh Congressional district that has any voice in the selection of our Senators and quite a number outside of this district similarly hampered. A primary to select a United States Senator would meet our hearty approval and we believe would redound to the good of the State and the dignity of the office, for often its honors have been tarnished by bitter and prolonged wrangles alike distasteful to everybody. Why not move in the channels of adjoining States which have suffered as we have but now seek escape through the next best avenue to election by popular vote.

The people of Burkesville, headed by Prof. Charles R. Hunt, are getting in earnest along educational lines. They have decided to build a large dormitory for young men and to offer every inducement and advantage possible to give in a good country town. More than fifty of the best people of Burkesville and vicinity have pledged themselves to bring in some students and unless these gentlemen relax their efforts success is bound to follow. The schools of a country have much to do with making good citizens and if there is one proposition on which unity of action is desired it is that of better schools. We trust that those interested in the growth and good of Alexander College will keep the faith and not tire in the work.

Eds. J. Q. Montgomery and Z. T. Williams will begin a series of meetings at the Christian church, this place, Wednesday night after the second Sunday in October.

Beside the inside improvements, Mr. T. E. Paul has had a tin roof put upon his residence. The remodeling inside makes it one of the most convenient homes in town.

A little stroll after twilight on the side walks of Columbia will convince any one of the necessity of better and safer pavements. There ought to be something doing.

A smoke house belonging to Mr. E. S. Rice was burned a few days ago. All of his meat and lard were consumed. He also lost his fishing tackle, including a good minnow seine.

Mr. J. H. Young is building a 50 foot addition to his already large mule barn which is now over flowing with the long eared animals. When completed, it will have a capacity for 150.

The Columbia Singletree Company has removed all its machinery to a building erected near the Columbia Roller Mill and Mr. W. R. Myers will furnish the power to keep it moving.

Wess Hubbard, who shot and killed John McFarland in Metcalfe county, last week, has been given an examining trial and held without bail. The trouble came over Hubbard's wife.

The Masonic Grand Lodge of Kentucky, will convene in Louisville the third Tuesday in October and will remain in session three days. The Grand Chapter and Grand Council also meet.

The mother-in-law of Mr. Frank Coomer, this county, has four daughters all named Lucy, and her name also is Lucy. We do not know, but we take it when the mother calls one of her daughters they all answer.

Mr. Creed Beard of Casey Creek, who who went to Shelbyville about one year and opened up a hotel, was burned out about two weeks ago. He had seven hundred dollars insurance on his household goods. The hotel was rented.

There is no "let up" in trading in realty in Columbia. Property changes hands nearly every day. The town is not at all a boom, but it has a steady substantial growth. The population is increasing rapidly and business is lively.

A match game of base ball was played last Saturday between M. & F. High school and the Lindsay-Wilson, resulting in a victory for the former, the score standing 15 to 4. The game was played on the Lindsay-Wilson grounds.

The Jury in the case of Ed Miller, of color, who shot the colored Methodist preacher and his wife, several months ago, returned a verdict Monday, giving him two years in the penitentiary. Jerry Bomar, who was also indicted with Miller, got a continuance.

An exchange advises the turkey raisers to sell early. There is more money for the farmers by selling now than in holding later. Government reports show a big crop of turkeys in the West, which is bound to hammer down prices at the final close of the season.

The singing at Hebron last Sunday is said to have been the largest held in the county for years. The church was crowded to its fullest capacity and the grounds were lined with people. The good people in the neighborhood furnished ample dinner for all in attendance.

The solos rendered by Mrs. Rollin Hurt and Miss May Penland at the Presbyterian and Methodist churches last Sunday were highly complimented. Mrs. Hurt sang in the forenoon and Mrs. Penland at the evening services. These ladies possess cultivated voices, articulate distinctly and sing with perfect ease.

Mr. M. N. Steel, a traveling salesman, who has been very sick at the Marcom Hotel, for the past two months, is thought to be some better. His brother, Mr. Henry Steel, arrived from New Albany Sunday night and will convey him home.

In another column will be seen the advertisement of John Wathan, Jr., of Lebanon, Ky. If you are interested in high class horses, mules cattle or farm implements you will do well to attend this sale. Mr. Wathan will sell some of the most promising and richly bred trotting horses ever offered in this part of the State, consisting of winners of four to four years old. This sale will be made Wednesday, October 11th, at 9:30 a. m., on Mr. Wathan's farm one mile from Lebanon on the Campbellsville pike. Read his ad and write for catalogue if you are interested.

Strange—Powell.

It was generally known about town that Mr. S. C. Strange and Miss Birdie Powell would be made one to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, and that date was at first set by the contracting parties, who had a desire to take the community by surprise, but when the approaching union became talk, the lovers were still more determined to carry out their desire—surprise their friends. Accordingly, at a conference held Monday forenoon they agreed to get married in the evening of that day, and the arrangement was made known only to the family of the intended bride, the mother of the intended groom and two or three close friends, and it worked satisfactorily to all concerned.

Ed. A. L. Oden, of the Christian Church, was the officiating clergyman, and the ceremony was pronounced at the home of the bride. Immediately after the rites had been solemnized the couple were driven to the Hancock Hotel, rooms having been engaged.

The groom came here from Burkesville about three years ago and has been engaged in business since that date. His conduct has been exemplary and he has made many friends among the young set.

He is a partner of Mr. Sam Beck in the grocery business and the firm enjoys a nice trade. Tuesday morning Mr. Strange was warmly congratulated by his associates.

The bride is one of Columbia's best young women, popular with every body and for several years has been conducting a millinery store in this place. She is a lady possessing all the finer qualities necessary to make a home happy. The News extends its best wishes.

The deceased was a consistent member of the Christian Church and had been for years. He lost his companion a number of years ago, but he is survived by six or seven children. The Greensburg Record says: "At the meeting of the Russell Creek Association, which convened last week at Pleasant Valley in this county, but two days were consumed in the proceedings.

The attendance was very large and the order maintained has never been exceeded anywhere and is a convincing proof that careless and indifferent people are learning to respect the wishes of the majority of our people who are lovers of law, order, morality and religious liberty. James Garnett, of Columbia, was elected moderator and in accepting a position of so much honor and trust which had been so ably filled by his father, made a touching talk full of feeling. He has executive ability in a rare degree and will fill the position most acceptably. Capt. E. F. Tucker was re-elected Clerk, a position he has filled for several terms and takes pride in keeping his records in perfect order, on time, in time and all the time. He loses no time in arranging them and they are now arranged in the usual good order for publication."

The lawn fete given by the ladies of the Christian Church at the home of Mr. Jas. T. Page, last Friday night, was largely attended and very much enjoyed. There were elegant refreshments, and the music was delightful. The lawn lighted by Japanese lanterns, presented a beautiful appearance. There is never a failure when the ladies of Columbia set an evening for entertaining.

The musical entertainment given at the Presbyterian Church last Friday evening by Prof. Ohlenmacher, teacher of music in the M. & F. High School, received enthusiastic applause from start to finish by the many lovers of classical music. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity and all seemed to be delighted with the rendition of the entire programme. Prof. Ohlenmacher thoroughly impressed that large audience that he is a polished musician and working in a sphere in which his endowments and education entitle him to the confidence and high esteem of all lovers of music.

In a short while Mr. Ohlenmacher will give another entertainment in the interest of his studies.

The Young Man Should Work.

The following clipped from an exchange is well worthy of reproduction:

"There are young men in every community who have no occupation because they have not been able to find an opening in the particular line that suits their inclinations. They have gone along for years waiting for such an opening to occur, and have finally become dissatisfied with life. They have made a mistake and those who have encouraged them in such a course are likewise to blame. Perhaps it is some ambitious parent who has thus unwittingly injured his offspring. We use the word 'injured' advisedly, for no greater injury can come to a young man than to contract habits of thriftlessness in his early youth. If he has been reared to believe that something good would come to him because he happened to be the offspring of such a family, he has been grievously wronged. In this practical age only merit succeeds, and each individual must establish for himself that character in the business world which is to sustain his future. False pride has deterred many from the first step in what might have proved a successful career. Any honest employment is preferable to a life of idleness. The young man who remains without work for any considerable time gets the reputation of a 'net do well,' and business men do not want that kind of help."

Wouldn't See His Father-in-Law.

"Some years ago," said Representative Grimes, of Tennessee, "a drunken loafer staggered into a country tavern in the mountains near Nashville and asked to stay all night. The landlord at first refused to accommodate him, saying there were four or five Methodist preachers in the house, and he did not wish to have them disturbed. The weather was very cold, and the fellow begged so hard that the landlord yielded after exacting a promise that he would be quiet."

"After supper the drunken fellow took his seat by the fire, with his elbows on his knees and his head in his hands. In this position he sat for an hour, listening to the ministers talk. One of them, a young fellow, paced the floor and boasted about what he could do in the way of building up churches, saying that he had always found his wife a great help to him."

"A good wife is a blessing from Heaven," put in one of the other ministers.

"That is true," answered the young minister, and I married one of the Lord's children."

The drunken fellow, who had not moved from his position, slowly raised his head and said:

"Stranger, by God, I'll bet yer my horse you'll never see your father-in-law."

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

Indeed, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "celestial" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

More Wonders of Egypt.

In the Valley of the Tombs of the Kings, in Egypt, Mr. Theodore M. Davis has recently uncovered one of the finest stores of Egyptian antiquities that has been brought to light in modern times. It is a tomb, discovered almost by accident, which had not been opened since the Egyptian dynasty, more than three thousand years ago.

Beneath a pile of debris, by which the explorer's curiosity had been aroused, diggers found an opening through which they penetrated in to a sepulchral chamber fifteen by thirteen feet, and eight feet high. On the left were two wooden sarcophagi, painted black and gold, within which were the mummy cases of a man and woman. The cases themselves were double, the outer being completely plated with gold, except where the faces of the mummies were represented, and lined with silver. The inner cases were similarly plated with gold externally and lined with gold-leaf.

Beyond them the floor was covered with large sealed jars of wine or oil, and shell like boxes of black painted wood, each containing a piece of cooked meat neatly wrapped in black muslin. On top of them was a chariot broad enough for two persons, richly painted and encrusted with gold. The leather work of it was as fresh as when new.

Near at hand were four alabaster jars with tops of the finest Egyptian workmanship, in which had been placed the entrails of the dead. Two other alabaster vases, with handles of the most exquisite work, were also there.

In the other end of the tomb were many small objects, among them were several pair of sandals of stamped leather, the rest of papyrus. One pair was gilded. Chairs of the finest make, wonderful boxes, wooden things with the paint on them as brilliant as it was in the days of long ago, were also there. Although many single finds have been as excellent as the individual objects of this tomb, no such collection of artistic workmanship has ever been brought together for modern man to see. The chariot in completeness and beauty of form, is unique. Even the wooden tires on its six-spoked wheels are still there. The collection will certainly add much to the world's knowledge of the history and customs of the Eighteenth dynasty, and will also enlarge the current conception of the artistic taste and skill of workmanship of the ancient Egyptians. For the story writer who desires an accurate picture of the accoutrements of royalty in that epoch it will be invaluable.

An interesting fact in connection with the discovery is, that the tomb had evidently been visited last by robbers in the age to which it belonged, and the marauders had been frightened away before they had obtained more than, possibly, what store of solid gold and silver the tomb may have contained, or some treasure of precious stones.

The demand for draft and coach horses increases with the growth and prosperity of our manufactures, and so long as our commercial interest prospers so long will the demand for good horses continue at good prices, and the export trade wants thousands of good American horses if we had any to spare. Then it behooves the American farmer to breed up with all haste to supply these urgent market demands at the high prices so eagerly paid. Only raise good horses and the prices will be high.

Parker Makes Statement.

Esopus, N. Y. Sept. 18.—Former Chief Justice Alton B. Parker, last year the Democratic candidate for President of the United States, yesterday referred to the charges made by him in the presidential campaign last fall, that corporation funds were being used in aid of the Republican campaign. To a correspondent of the Associated Press, who called at Rosemount, Judge Parker's home, and asked him if he had anything to say in relation to the statement made by Vice-President Geo. W. Perkins, of the New York Life Insurance Company, before the legislative committee investigating the insurance business to the effect that President John A. McCall of that company had caused a contribution of about $50,000 to be made last year to the Republican national campaign fund, Judge Parker said:

"Yes, I believe I ought to say, now that there is no political excitement to distract the public attention, that the President of the New York Life was not the only such contributor. The officers of other great insurance companies, such as the Equitable and the Mutual, also contributed from the policyholders' funds for campaign purposes last year.

"What has been proved in the case of the New York Life will undoubtedly be proven in the other cases. The fact exists, and honest and able counsel backed by an honest committee will undoubtedly bring them out for the public good.

"Were there an investigation of railroad, manufacturing and other corporations it would be found that these life insurance officers were not the only corporation officers who put their hands into the treasury and took out moneys belonging to widows and orphans to help secure a partisan triumph.

"That their acts were unlawful, and their purposes corrupt, goes without saying. They intended to have the money used, as it was, in corrupting the electorate. Mr. Perkins makes the point that Mr. John A. McCall, President of the New York Life, is a Democrat. Apparently he would have the public assume that when Mr. McCall unlawfully and wrongfully contributed these funds—the company's share probably as a member of the underwriting syndicate—it was evidence of political virtue, rather than misconduct.

The Doctor's Warning.

Colonel John M. Fuller, of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo from Liver and Kidney trouble. In a recent letter, he says: "I was nearly dead, of these complaints, and, although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good; so I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the knowledge to make them." Sold and guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Kidney Disease, by T. E. Paul, druggist, at 50c a bottle.

Give every care and attention to the mares and colts to get into the markets as soon as possible. Select the best stallion available and do not allow the pressure of farm work to interfere with breeding and returning the mares at the proper time. We cannot afford to let any good mare miss having a colt while prices are so high for good horses and we cannot afford to raise any but good horses.

Hard to Find.
It would be hard to find a more perfect, curative medicine for disordered digestive organs than that gentle tonic, digestant, and torpid liver regulator, known as Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. No other medicine has its specific power over these delicate and important organs of your body, upon which you have to depend for energy to carry on your daily work. It cleanses, digests, stimulates and cures. Sold by J. N. Page of Columbia, & B. Wilson of Cane Valley, Ky., at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

The Pig's Lunch Counter.

Are you provided with a side table where the pigs can go to get a lunch when their mothers fail to furnish them a sufficiency of feed to keep them growing? The youngsters should never get so hungry that they fail to grow rapidly and to supply feed where the old ones cannot get at it is about the only way to keep them thriving, says an exchange. Make a pen by the side of the pasture with the fence made by the boards put on perpendicular, and spaced so that the pigs can and the old ones cannot get through, and keep feed there all the time until the pigs get to eating well, then they may be fed at stated times. There should be care used not to allow the feed to become stale or sour. Cleanliness is next to godliness, and as an element in successful hog raising possibly ahead. There is in some quarters the mistaken idea that the hog is not a cleanly animal; nothing is farther from the fact. True he wallows in mud, but furnish him clean water and see how he enjoys a bath.

Do not require the pig to hunch on corn, but see that he has some more suitable bone-forming material. Don't expect bricks without straw. Oats are the best grain, and at present prices are not expensive. Slop made of brand and shorts are about as good as anything if you have to buy feed and can get them right. Often shorts are high. Tankage is a most excellent feed, and can be used to good advantage when feeding largely on corn, but see to the price you have to pay. Don't feed entirely on corn for some of the other feeds combined with it will make a cheaper feed, cheaper because better, if not otherwise. Don't complain about small bogs and "chulliness" in your hogs and feed to produce these results. Furnish pasture, clover, rape, blue-grass, and while corn is the basis of the feed, let there be something else up to the time of final fattening.

Nobis Ildus Reks.

Whenever ship of health strikes the hidden rocks of Consumption, Pneumonia, etc., you are lost, if you don't get help from Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. J. W. McKinnon, of Talladega Springs, Ala., writes: "I had been very ill with Pneumonia, under the care of two doctors but was getting no better when I began to take Dr. King's New Discovery. The first dose gave relief, and one bottle cured me." Sure cure for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs and colds. Guaranteed at T. E. Paul's drug store, price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

To get proper size and development a variety of feed is necessary. Colts will winter after a fashion if allowed to run to a straw stack and given a little hay and oats occasionally, but this kind of wintering never pays. If colts are worth wintering at all they are worth proper care and attention. They will make larger horses, have better disposition and be worth much more in every way than horses developed from neglected colts.

Cribbly Ill.

Many people are critically ill, as a result of disturbance of their digestive functions, and don't know it. If you are suffering from dizziness, heartburn, wind, loss of appetite, irritability, headache, nausea, colic, constipation, waste no time, but take Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It may be the means of warding off a dangerous sickness. At any rate, it will surely make your distressing, dyspeptic symptoms disappear. It is safe, certain and pleasant. Try it. Sold by J. N. Page of Columbia, & B. Wilson, of Cane Valley, Ky., at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

Insure in The Farmers Home Insurance Company of Junction City, Ky. The only company in the State that makes any claim of paying their losses in full.
